DETAILED ACTION

1. Claim 2 has been canceled.
2. Claims 6-14 have been added.
3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1, 3, 6-7, and 9-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yuji(Japan No. 06-219762) in view of Wakayama et al. Yuji(Japan No. 06-219762) disclose a diamond wheel for forming a scribe line on a surface of a brittle material comprising substantially all of the subject matter set forth in Applicant's claims above. Note scribing disc illustrated in figures 1-3, and having grain size within the range recited. Wakayama et al disclose a scribing disc having an opening angle and pitch within the ranges recited by Applicant. To provide the scribing disc of Yuji with an opening angle and pitch within the range recited, which has been shown to produce acceptable scribing for brittle materials such as glass, would have been obvious in view of Wakayama et al.
5. Claims 4-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yuji(Japan No. 06-219762) in view of Wakayama et al, and further in view of Ishikawa. To further provide means for oscillating the scribing tool while traversing it over the surface of the brittle material to be cut, as disclosed in Ishikawa, in order to improve the subsequent breaking step, would have been obvious as taught by Ishikawa.

6. Claim 8 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. Applicant's arguments filed November 2, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant has introduced the limitation of claim 2 into independent claim 1, and amended claim 5 to include a recitation of blade shape and range of pitch. These features are deemed to be suggested by the secondary reference to Wakayama et al. Further, oscillation of the tool support to improve the subsequent breaking step, is deemed to be taught by Ishikawa.

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
